

LABARUM

SOUVENIR OF ENTHRONEMENT

St. Mary's Cathedral School
Saginaw, Michigan

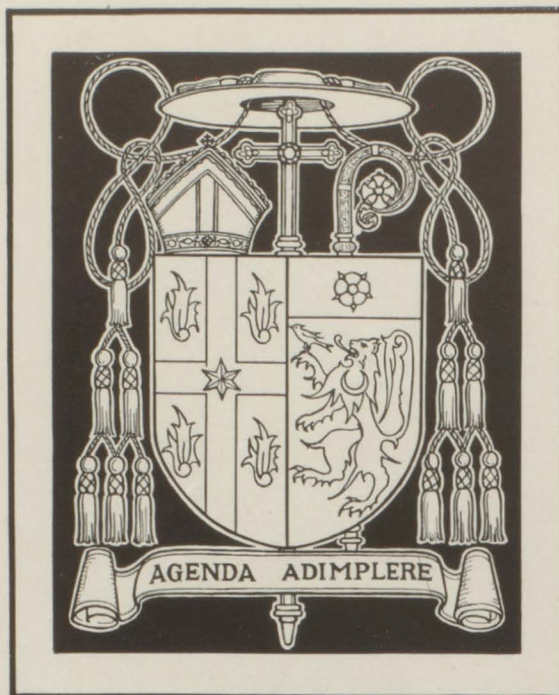

1938

His Excellency
William F. Murphy, D. D.

To the Most Reverend William Francis Murphy, D.D., the first Bishop of Saginaw, we dedicate our Labarum.

We appreciate having with us, him through whom the Christ-life and the honor of God become more extensively unfolded. He will mediate for us, his flock; we will intercede that he may preserve the Bride of Christ, the Church, spotless in our midst.

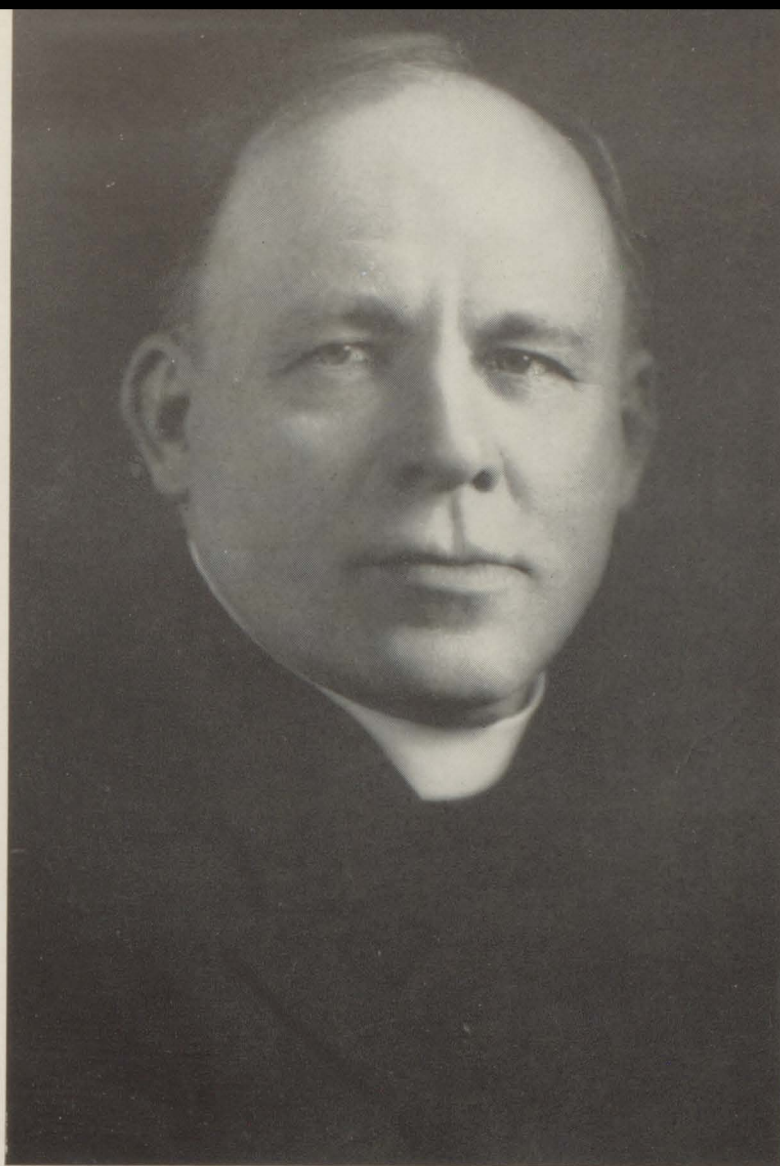

The Seals

The diocesan shield first shows the cross of our Faith, in its usual coloring of red on white or silver. Then, to indicate the name "Saginaw," there is in each "canton" of the shield a pentecostal flame, for this reason: "The present name of Saginaw Bay (Sagina-we), signifying the country or place of the Sauk, is apparently derived from the ethnic appellative Sauk. There is presumptive evidence that the Sauk, with the tribes mentioned above, were first known to Europeans under the general ethnic term 'Gens de Feu' ('People of Fire')."

For the cathedral dedicated to "St. Mary" there is placed on the cross Our Lady's six-pointed star—and this is the one of her many heraldic attributes that is usually shown to indicate the Assumption.

Bishop Murphy's shield is properly divided into two halves. In the left—the jurisdiction half—is placed the design just explained. In the right—the personal half—there is shown the oldest and simplest form of the Murphy arms—simply a red rampant lion, on a silver field.

The attributes of the bishop's two patron saints, St. William of Briec and St. Francis de Sales, are shown as follows: St. William's surname was Pinchon, and the arms ascribed to that name naturally display a bird as a play on the name—"pinson" being the French word for "finch" or chaffinch". The gold crescent is the central figure on the shield of St. Francis de Sales. The rose is taken from the insignia of Archbishop Edward Mooney, of Detroit.

Tribute to Our Pastor

"The best men who have ever lived are those who carried the heart of a little child into the wisdom and ripeness of their strong, achieving manhood."

Friendship, somewhat like the retiring fragrant violet that blooms in the shade, is sort of loathe to speak out the noble qualities of those respected and loved, but there comes a time, such as this, when children feel they must reveal their inner thoughts concerning the Father placed over them, their Pastor and Guide.

As students of St. Mary's Cathedral School we are blessed to have as this Guide and Friend during the auspicious year of 1938, Reverend Father F. Vogt.

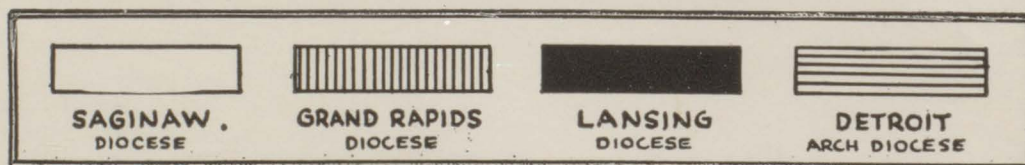

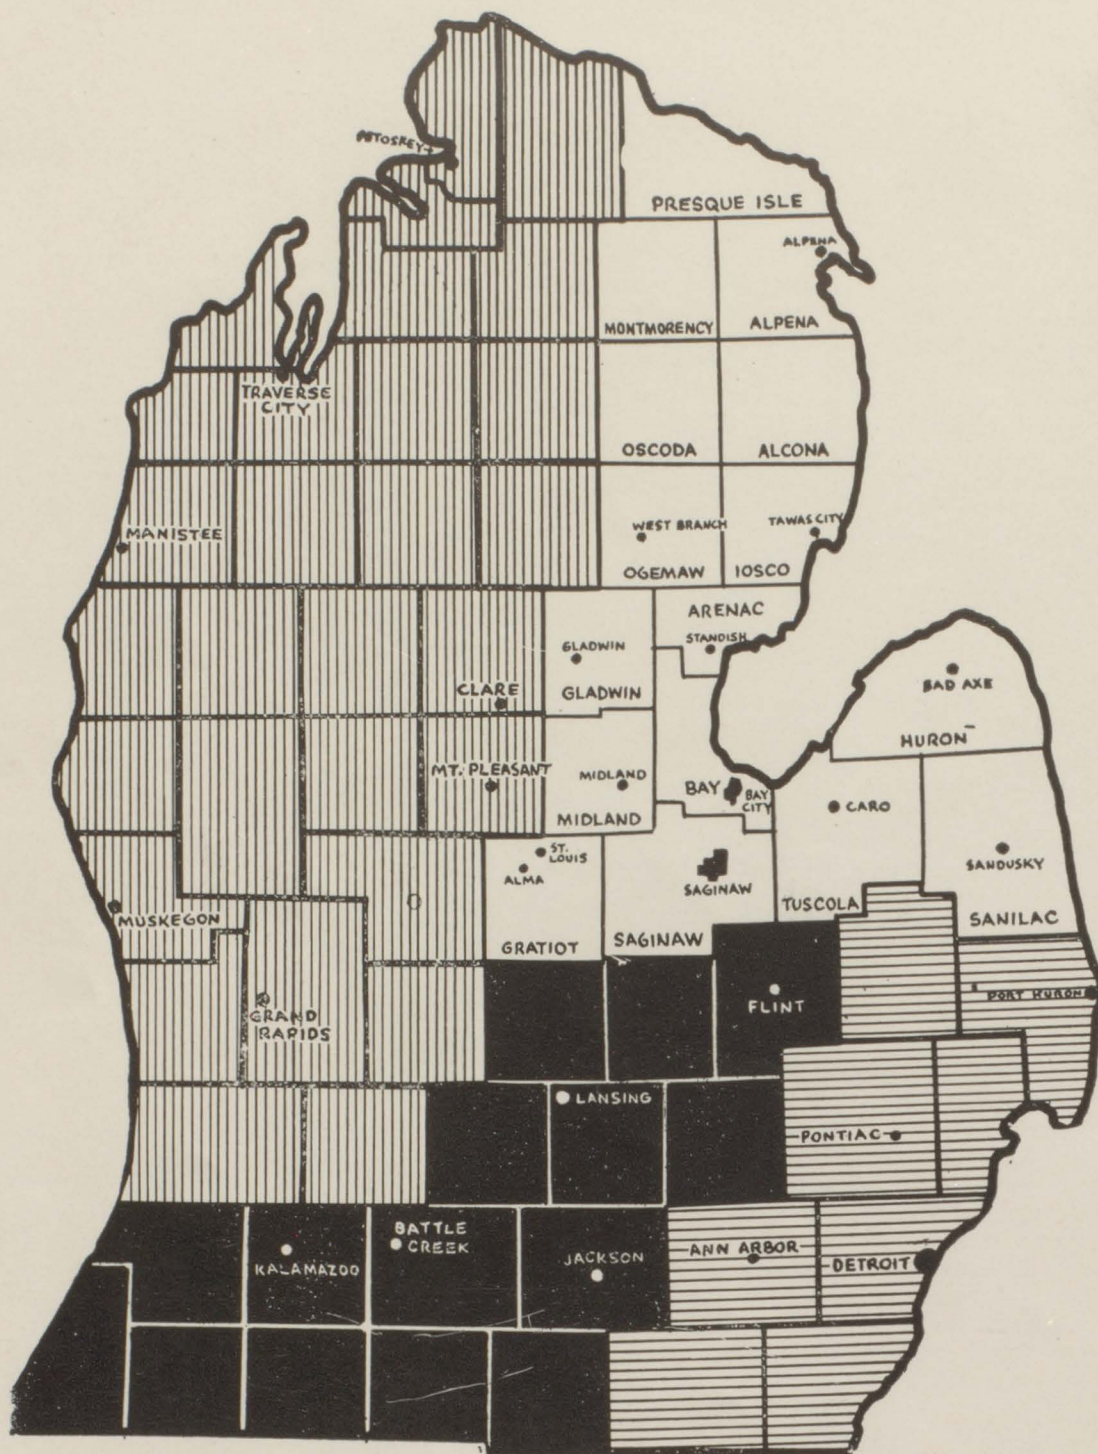

Father's merry laugh and smiling face brings sunshine and happiness wherever he goes. His busy mind is always unselfishly working out the problems of others. His happy heart seems ever to be given the gift of hearing the songs that he sings out to others along life's lonely way.

In the years to come we know that this kindly genial spirit of Father Vogt will influence us, and we hope other souls will catch some echo of the great refrains which

"All attuned with the Infinite Add their sweet chording to the weaving choral
Chanting to God the endless song of life."

Always we shall feel privileged that we as his children knew him so intimately. His magnetic personality has taken full possession of our hearts which in time will, we hope, bring out great and noble qualities that bearing fruit will repay Father in some measure for the good he has worked in our souls.

NEWLY CREATED ECCLESIASTICAL DISTRICT is the Roman Catholic Diocese of Saginaw which embraces 16 northeastern Michigan counties. The new diocese includes three counties—Tuscola, Sanilac and Huron—from the Detroit archdiocese and 13 counties from Grand Rapids diocese. Pope Pius XI, in designating the new Saginaw area, effected changes in the Lansing diocese, shifting three counties from the latter group to the Grand Rapids diocese and adding three other counties to Lansing from Detroit.

Civic Reception

Children, Grown-Ups, Welcome Bishop to Saginaw

Less than ten minutes after Bishop Murphy entered Saginaw for the first time in his life, he was greeted by more than 3000 members of his diocese. Accompanied by the members of a civic committee, he was met at Hoyt Park by school children and their parents from every parish in the city, all waving flags and shouting their welcome to him.

Mayor Francis J. McDonald adequately expressed the sentiments of those present when he said: "To you, Your Excellency, we offer the keys to our hearts. The citizens of Saginaw, for whom I speak, would do more than welcome you as a new citizen, for they recognize in you one who comes bearing the credentials of the spiritual and divine as well as of the temporal and moral life.

"As a representative of the civil government of Saginaw, it is my privilege as well as my duty to recognize the debt that government owes to religion. It is a debt acknowledged in the original governmental enactment that formed the basis for this community and all those for miles around. In the Ordinance of 1787, which created the Northwest Territory and opened it for settlement, we read:

"Religion, morality, and knowledge being necessary for good government and the happiness of mankind, schools and the means of education shall forever be encouraged."

You will note that religion came first. While the founders of the American nation were careful, and properly so, to safeguard the right of every man to follow the guidance of his own religious belief, it was obviously their conviction that every man should have some belief. They recognized that men would make a sorry failure of trying to govern themselves without the principles of religion to guide their actions Our need for a moral leader of your calibre is greater than ever today. Civil authority can enforce only what moral law implies. Divine support and human cooperation in unison shall accomplish much good."

In conclusion, Mayor McDonald said: "Your coming to us today gives us great assurance for the safety, security, and guidance of the thousands of children who are assembled here tonight. They are the pride of the city, the center of our hopes, and the object of our solicitude. In their name, and in the name of all who pledge you their loyalty, friendship and hearty cooperation, I extend to you, Bishop Murphy, a most cordial welcome.

Bishop Murphy then expressed his gratitude at being so well received. "You impress me as indicative of understanding my desire to be a real citizen of Saginaw," he said; "You indicate that you expect I should be vitally interested in any of your problems. It is my hope and intention to be all of that.

"I come as a spiritual worker, one who principally looks after the welfare of souls but I am ready to assist you in your temporal needs. I am a man of peace, and a promoter of peace not to be bought by compromise. I come with the peace of goodwill and in the name of the Prince of Peace.

"As the first Bishop of Saginaw, I am to carry on the fine traditions of past Bishops of Detroit and Grand Rapids dioceses. I have a keen appreciation of the responsibilities I assume on the possession of this new See but I come, not to be served, but to be a servant of all. Therefore, I say, with your goodwill and support I do not fear the future for it will contain much success."

Rev. John B. Suprenant and Frank A. Picard presided at the program. Music was furnished by the Saginaw Eddy Band. Preceding the park program, the Bishop was met at the Saginaw-Genesee county line by a delegation of priests and reception committee members and rode to the city in a car with Max P. Heavenrich, R. Perry Shorts, and Mayor McDonald.

Installation of Bishop Murphy

The first day of June, 1938 shall stand out in our memories as one of the most inspiring days of our lives. On that day Most Rev. William F. Murphy, the first bishop of Saginaw ascended his episcopal throne in St. Mary's Cathedral.

Prior to the ceremony of Installation The Most Rev. Edward Mooney, D. D., Archbishop of Detroit and Most Rev. Joseph Pinten, Bishop of Grand Rapids, both wearing Cappa Magna, Most Rev. William F. Murphy vested in Cope and Precious Mitre and the Procession of the clergy came from the school to the Cathedral. The Most Rev. Archbishop was received at the entrance to the church by the pastor of the Cathedral, Rev. Felix Vogt, and then proceeded together with his chaplains to the Altar of the Blessed Sacrament for a visit. Meanwhile the choir sang the Te Deum. Then the Most Rev. Archbishop went to the throne on the Epistle side of the sanctuary. The Notary, Rev. John J. Sonefeld, then read the Bull of Appointment, the decree of the Archbishop erecting the diocese and the Bull of our Holy Father to the Clergy and Laity of the Diocese.

As soon as the Notary finished reading the documents the Archbishop crossed to the Gospel side and led Bishop Murphy to the throne, the action which essentially constituted the Installation Ceremony.

Representatives of the diocesan clergy then came to the Bishop of the Diocese and kissed his ring. The Most Rev. Archbishop then addressed the congregation and exhorted all to receive their new Bishop in the manner deserved by a successor of the Apostles.

Among the dignitaries present were the Most Rev. Joseph A. Albers, D.D., Bishop of Lansing and the Most Rev. Stephen Woznicki, D. D. Auxiliary Bishop of Detroit. Rev. James J. O'Mara of Washington, D. C. broadcasted the Installation Ceremonies over Station WBCM.

There was no visible change of the church, but everyone knew that the same noon-day sun that had seen St. Mary's as a parish church but three hours before, now saw it as a Cathedral.

On Pentecost, the first Sunday following his installation, Bishop Murphy celebrated a Pontifical High Mass at the Cathedral and administered Confirmation there in the afternoon and at St. Andrew's Church the same evening.

Present at the Mass were the graduating classes of all the Catholic High Schools in the city, clad in cap and gown, and representatives from all of the grades of the Cathedral School.

Preceded by a colorful procession of acolytes and priests, Bishop Murphy ascended to his throne while the Cathedral Choir sang "Ecce Sacerdos Magnus." There he was vested in the robes of his divine office with impressive ceremonies. In accordance with instructions from the Holy See, Rev. J. J. Sonefeld, D. D., Chancellor of the diocese of Saginaw, read the Papal Bull naming the bishop of Saginaw. Bishop Murphy graciously granted to the entire congregation an indulgence of fifty days and extended to all present his Apostolic Benediction.

Assisting Bishop Murphy were Rev. Edward J. Caldwell, former pastor of St. Mary's, as arch-priest; Rev. Felix Vogt, cathedral pastor, as deacon; and Rev. Father Berendses as subdeacon. Rev. J. J. Sonefeld acted as master of ceremonies. The theme of Father Vogt's sermon was the fitness of the feast for the occasion. "Our joy should be beyond bounds today," he said, "for we have with us a successor to the Apostles who were so marvelously transformed from timid men to fearless followers of Christ by the Descent of the Holy Ghost. They gloried in the opportunity not only to preach but also to suffer for Him. Let us be on fire with the holy zeal which filled the Apostles. The successor to the Apostles in our midst invites the Holy Spirit into our souls. Let us ask God to grant us that privilege, that grace of carrying our Cross."

In the afternoon, more than 200 men, women, and children received Confirmation from the hand of Bishop Murphy at the Cathedral.

The Church in Michigan

The histories of the parishes in the newly formed diocese of Saginaw have been collected in the hope that they will serve as a dependable record in the future. The data have been supplied through the cooperation of the pastors of the particular communities and from the Catholic directory.

This history of the Church in Saginaw can be traced back as far as 1615, the year in which the first missionaries were brought over to America from France. At that time, Michigan, together with Canada and the northwestern part of what is now the United States, was under the jurisdiction of the Paris province but in 1632, Cardinal Richelieu established the diocese of Quebec and placed it in the hands of the Jesuits. It is to the heroic efforts of these zealous missionaries that we owe the introduction of the Faith in Michigan. On the feast of St. Francis Xavier, 1675, the first Mass in the lower peninsula was celebrated by Father Henry Nouvel just south of the present site of our city.

In 1790, with the beginning of the American rule, all ties with Quebec in Michigan were severed. Father John Carrol was consecrated bishop of Baltimore and his diocese was co-extensive with American territory. We remained in the diocese of Baltimore until 1808 when the diocese was divided into the four sees of New York, Philadelphia, Boston, and Bardstown or Louisville, Ky. The latter diocese extended from Genesee to Canada and of course included Michigan.

In 1821, Father Edward Fenwick was consecrated bishop of the new Cincinnati diocese which had the Ohio River as its southern boundary, but he soon found that he could not give adequate care to the entire diocese.

In 1827, a Papal Bull was issued creating the diocese of Detroit and naming Father Gabriel Richard as bishop. However, it was not published until after the death of Father Richard.

On March 8, 1833, the Diocese of Michigan and the Northwest was erected and Father Frederic Reze was consecrated first bishop of Detroit. Bishop Reze resigned in 1837 and left Detroit for Rome in 1839, never to return.

Bishop Reze was succeeded by Peter Paul Gefeore, a priest from the diocese of St. Louis. He was consecrated on November 14, 1841 and served faithfully in his duties until his death in 1869. He was succeeded by Father Caspar Borgess, Chancellor of Cincinnati and it was during his episcopate that the Grand Rapids diocese was formed.

Father Henry Joseph Richter was consecrated bishop of Grand Rapids on April 22, 1833 and his career in that diocese was a lengthy one. He is probably best remembered because of the enviable school system he established in his see. Upon his death on December 26, 1916, he was succeeded by Bishop Michael James Gallagher who was later transferred to the diocese of Detroit.

In 1919, Bishop Edward Dionysius Kelly of Detroit replaced Bishop Gallagher and served faithfully until his death, March 26, 1926. Bishop Gabriel Pinten was transferred from the diocese of Superior, Wisconsin and was enthroned in the cathedral on October 26, 1926.

On March 4, 1938, the diocese of Saginaw was created and Monsignor Murphy of Detroit was appointed bishop. St. Mary's has been chosen as cathedral of the new diocese.

SAGINAW

St. Andrew's Parish. The people of Saginaw were ministered to by Rev. Martin Kundig in 1841. In 1842 Father Lawrence Kilroy remained with the settlers for a few months. In the fall of 1842 some French missionaries arrived and said Mass there. In 1852 a carpenter shop was purchased by the Catholics of the area and it was not until 1862 that the first church was erected, a small frame building. From this beginning were to come the many parishes served by Father Vander Heyden as missions.

Other priests active in the history of St. Andrew's are Father Rybrook, 1901, Father Emmerich, 1901 and 1902, Father Joseph J. Vogl, 1902 to 1911, Father Henry P. Maus, 1911 to 1928. Father Kroboth came in 1929 and is pastor today. Father Kroboth has done much for his parish, reorganizing the various societies, instituting a central heating plant and reducing the debt considerably.

In September, 1911, six Sisters of Mercy came from Big Rapids to St. Andrews Academy. The school served approximately 200 children, of which 30 were in high school.

Ten years later a new brick school was built on Monroe and Hamilton Streets. In 1921 this was formally opened by Father Maus.

Present enrollment is 190 in high school, 250 in grade school.

St. Casimir's Parish was organized in 1913. The first resident priest was Rev. V. S. Szynaski.

St. George's Church was organized in August 24, 1918 under Bishop Gallagher. The church was erected in 1919 by Father John Gervickas, who became first pastor. The number of families in the parish then was about thirty; now there are sixty families in the parish. The present pastor is Rev. Stanislaus Kuczas.

Holy Family Church. Pastor, Rev. J. B. Suprenant. The parish was organized July 7, 1893 under Bishop Richter. The first pastor was Rev. N. N. Paulin. The first church and school were erected in 1893 by Father N. N. Paulin and Bishop Richter laid the cornerstone. The number of families in the parish was then 500 and the number of families in the parish is now 130.

A new church was erected in the year 1921 by Father J. B. Suprenant. The school was organized in the year 1903, the first enrollment was 225, the present enrollment is 135. There are now nine grades in the school. The teachers are members of the Dominican Order.

Holy Rosary Church. Pastor, Rev. Francis A. Kaczmarek. Parish was organized in 1885 under Bishop Richter. The first pastor was Rev. Ladislaus Tyszkiewicz, who erected the first church in 1886 for which Bishop Richter laid the cornerstone. The number of families in the parish then was 56 and at present is 260. The school was organized in 1888. The first enrollment was 56 and at present is 220. There are eight grades in the school. The first teachers were members of the Dominican Order. The Felician Sisters replaced them and are the present teachers. A new school was erected by Rev. Alex Lipinski in 1902.

During the present administration church services were opened in three new parishes, which branched off from Holy Rosary. In October, 1913, St. Casimir's and St. Josaphat's were opened. Both parishes opened with a parish school, with Dominican Sisters as teachers. St. Rita's Parish branched off from Holy Rosary Mother Parish in 1920.

St. Josaphat's—Rev. Stephen Narloch. The school enrolls 170 pupils, and Dominican Sisters are the teachers.

St. Joseph's—Revs. Constantine A. Skowronski, and Peter T. Feixa assistant. The school enrolls 273 pupils. It is a high school and Dominican Sisters are the teachers.

Our Lady of Mt. Carmel was organized in September, 1911 under Bishop Richter. The church was purchased in 1913 by Father Hyland. Bishop Richter blessed it Easter Sunday, 1913. The first pastor was Rev. Alfred Hyland who was pastor from 1911 to 1929. The number of families in the parish was then ninety; the number of families now is 125. The present pastor is Rev. James D. Kenny. A school of eight grades was organized in 1916 with an enrollment of 78. The first teachers, as well as the present, are the Dominicans.

St. Rita's—Rev. Andrew Narloch. The school enrolls 178 pupils, and Dominican Sisters are the teachers.

SS. Peter and Paul Parish was organized in the year 1886 under Bishop Henry Joseph Richter. The church was erected two years later having Rev. Edward C. Lefevre as first pastor. Bishop Henry Joseph Richter laid the cornerstone, June 12, 1887, and the church was dedicated October 21, 1888. The parish at that time was comparatively small having 288 members but has since grown to 900 members.

In 1889 the first school was organized and Sisters of Providence of Terra Haute were the teachers. Since then a school has been erected in 1923 consisting of twelve grades and Dominican Sisters as teachers. The school has increased in enrollment from 86 members to 602 members.

SHERIDAN

Uby, Michigan

Eighty-eight years ago a band of 700 Catholic Highlanders were forced from their homes in the Western Islands, off of the coast of Scotland, because of their religious belief. They sought haven in Quebec and landed there in the Winter of 1849. Eventually a group of these hardy Catholics made their way into Michigan and settled in the area known as Sheridan, near this community.

That was 80 years ago and the district is still known as the Scotch Settlement. Being fervent Catholics, it was not long after the band's arrival, here, that they were visited by a priest. It was the Rev. Peter Kluck, then pastor at Posen, Mich., who first came to Sheridan and offered Mass in the log house of Mr. and Mrs. John McIntosh. The house was located on what is now the Duncan Livingstone farm.

In 1879 Sheridan township became a mission of Gagetown and the Rev. C. T. B. Krebs took charge of this area. The present church at Sheridan was started under the direction of Father Krebs in 1887 but was not dedicated until 1898.

Sheridan became a mission of Bad Axe in 1902 under the pastorate of Msgr. James Stapleton. Four years later Msgr. Stapleton was succeeded by the Rev. Henry VanDyke, who, upon the suggestion of the parishioners, made a request to the bishop that St. Columbkille's parish become independent. He supervised the erection of a rectory in 1910 and the Rev. C. T. Dolan became the first resident pastor. Father Dolan remained 12 years and was succeeded by the Rev. James Carolan, who remained several years. The Rev. E. M. Werm, the present pastor, came here in 1935.

Saginaw—Its Origin and Growth

The earliest known inhabitants of this region were the Sauk Indians and their close neighbors, the Ottawas.

They were like most Indians of the time; proud, lazy and indolent, content to lay around and smoke while they boasted and quarreled. All the manual labor was done by the squaws of the tribe, who foolishly idolized the lazy braves.

Such was the nature of the people who lived in the Saginaw Basin three hundred years ago.

Any history of our city would be closely linked with that of the Sauk tribe. Our name has its derivation with them. "Sagin-a-we" means, freely translated, the "Land of the Sauks."

Despite many savage battles with the Ottawa tribe, their settlement grew, until at the beginning of the seventeenth century, there were 1,700 Sauks here, which is considerable for an Indian settlement. They had trouble several times with the Ottawas and many pitched battles were fought between them.

Some early historians will assert that the Jesuits came to this region in 1684 for the purpose of founding missions. The Sauk Indians have legends of long-robed white men coming here. The natives called them "Onetia." How reliable this knowledge is—is questionable.

In the early part of the nineteenth century fur traders began to arrive here. Some were worthless half-breeds, bent on stealing and cheating the Indian out of his God-given wealth. Others were conscientious men, who dealt fairly, and were content with a square profit. Such a man was Louis Campau, a fur trader, who was in the Saginaw Valley in 1816. He was a wise far-seeing man, and plays an important part in our early history.

On the west bank of the Saginaw River at the end of what is now Throop Street, he erected a two-story log house, quite formidable for the time. He was the first pioneer to break ground for the embryo settlement. He traded with the Sauks for many years; he became their friend, and his trading-mission a cherished landmark.

In 1787 we became part of the United States, being in the Northwest territory; in January, 1805, the territorial boundaries of the State of Michigan were defined.

General Lewis Cass was appointed United States Commissioner to negotiate treaties to add to this territory. At his wish, Louis Campau erected a council-house here, at what is now Michigan and Clinton Streets.

In 1819 Cass, the commissioner, arrived in Saginaw Valley, bent on negotiating a treaty with the Indians here. He called all the tribes together. Between 1500 and 2000 Indians were soon camped along the river. Only the chiefs and the head tribal men were admitted to the council house.

General Cass addressed the chiefs eloquently. He told them of the great regard held for them by the Great White Father in Washington. He spoke of the growing scarcity of grain and of how they would be safe and secure on the reservations the government would set aside for them.

He explained that a treaty should be signed which would give them these reservations and place them under the protection of the mighty white nation.

The chiefs at first were decidedly against such a proposition, but the whole assembly remained quiet and orderly, probably because they regarded Commissioner Cass in such great awe.

Many of the leading Indians had to be kept intoxicated as their absence was far more desirable than their presence.

For days the chiefs protested against the signing away of their lands. They did not favor the idea of being restricted to government reservations.

Finally, in the presence of 114 Indian dignitaries, the treaty was signed, making Saginaw Valley part of the United States.

The payment of silver was counted out on the table and the Indians were coming up to get it, when financial complications set in.

The trader, Louis Campau, presented claims for $1500 which the Indians had promised to pay. However, the wily chiefs took advantage of the commissioner's presence, and refused to pay.

Campau, to gain revenge, gave the Indians five barrels of whiskey that night. In their incensed condition, they began to fight with the soldiers and it was only after several skirmishes that they were quieted.

The next day Commissioner Cass and his soldiers left Saginaw Valley, their task completed.

Thus, in 1819, the Saginaw Valley region came under the authority of the United States, beneath whose jurisdiction she was destined to prosper.

White people were at first slow to settle this territory because they feared the Indians. However, with the fur traders came a few families, these people soon learned to love this region and built permanent settlements here.

Many were the hardships of these early pioneers, with suspicious Indians lurking about in the day and hungry wolves howling at night. These people show a splendid example by their bravery and courage and deserve our highest praise.

Gradually, the settlement grew, little log houses began to spring up all along the river, Saginaw had become a tiny village by 1836. In the spring of this same year, the villagers were in a turmoil because the first steamboat ever to navigate the Saginaw River was in sight. We can well imagine how great was their excitement.

In 1835, due to the vast expenditures of various lumbering enterprises, Saginaw "boomed," in other words it was inflated with a sudden and false prosperity. Immigrants swarmed here, eager to make money in this fast-growing town. Property went sky-high and single lots sold as high as $2000. A large hotel was built and several sawmills constructed.

Soon after this, 1855, the village of East Saginaw and Buena Vista were incorporated as villages. A plank road was built to Flint. This road, 32 miles long, was a great aid to both cities.

After 1857, when Saginaw City (on the west side of the river) was incorporated, the rivalry between the two cities became intense. By 1886, they realized the tremendous advantage of a consolidation. Accordingly, in 1889, the cities were consolidated by an act of the Michigan legislature. The bill provided for a beautiful new city hall. It was completed in 1893 and remained as our civic administration center until 1936, when it was destroyed by fire.

Our city went forward by leaps and bounds following this, giving evidence of the fact that "in unity there is strength."

Many improvements were made to bring Saginaw up to the standards of a high class American city. Three bridges were built, that East and West Saginaw might materially be united. To beautify and enhance the natural attributes of our fair city, Ezra Rust, Hoyt and Bliss Park were laid out. These playgrounds have gathered praise from visitors the country over.

In 1910, the children were given a splendid natatorium by Mershon and Whittier. Our present spacious municipal auditorium was constructed in the same year.

The commission form of city government was sweeping the country in 1913, and Saginaw, by popular consent, adopted it the following year. It consisted of a mayor, four councilmen and ten supervisors at large. Ard E. Richardson was our first mayor under this system.

Two splendid libraries have been given to the people of Saginaw, the Butman-Fish on the West Side and the castle-like Hoyt library on the East Side.

The first Roman Catholic Church in Saginaw was St. Andrew's, West Side, established in 1852. Father Vander Hayden played an important part in its early annals.

On the East Side, St. Mary's Church was organized in 1863. The zeal of one of its earliest pastors, Father VanderBom, did much to aid its growth. The good people of this parish little realized that their church was destined to become a cathedral and its parish to house a bishop.

Volumes would not embrace completely a detailed history of Saginaw. I have merely endeavored to point out the high-lights in that growth which has transformed Saginaw from a primitive, backwoods settlement to the mighty modern city of over ninety thousand people which lies for miles along the Saginaw River. In closing I wish to pay tribute to those men and women whose fortitude and fervor have made possible—Saginaw.

Catholic Study Club

On February 5, 1931, fifteen women met at the Hoyt Library Mezzanine room to consider organizing a Catholic Woman's Study Club with Mrs. M. D. Ryan acting as chairman and Mrs. Max Mueller, secretary. Mrs. Wm. C. Spring and Mrs. A. E. Clappitt were directed to prepare a Constitution and By-Laws, which were presented to a group of fifty women at a second meeting February 19, 1931, held at the home of Mrs. M. D. Ryan at which Mrs. James C. Dooley acted as chairman and Mrs. Edward G. Deisler as secretary.

This club originated because the Catholic women were beginning to realize that in a constantly changing world at a time when economic disorder was testing their mettle as never before, that not only were friendly contacts needed to buoy up their spirits but it was becoming almost a necessity to know of these ever changing conditions so as to cope intelligently with them. Woman's life has gradually changed so that where once the home was industrial, the mechanical age has brought more time for a new kind of life to the home, one which breathes the atmosphere of refinement and culture. They felt that the real meaning of religion and morals should be considered as the basis for all future study and so the foundation has been laid by studying some of the history, literature, customs, and religions of the people of the various countries to help for a better understanding of the constantly changing standard of the world. It was decided to invite the women of the various parishes to cooperate and thus the Catholic Study Club came into existence. It was decided to meet twice a month, the first and third Thursdays, from October through May at the Knights of Columbus Hall. The first officers elected were:

President.....Mrs. James C. Dooley
Vice-President.....Mrs. Wm. C. Spring
Recording Secretary.....Mrs. A. C. Pendell, Sr.
Corresponding Secretary....Mrs. Max W. Mueller
Treasurer.....Mrs. C. J. O'Gorman

It was decided to organize four Departments, the Departments of Art, Literature and Drama, Music and Public Interest, and let the women choose the department they would be most interested in. These departments met in the homes of the different members once each month on a different day from the regular Thursday meetings. Each department has a director or chairman and two vice-chairmen who plan the meetings for the year.

The Club has developed programs, using its own talents for the most part, which have been wholesome, instructive, and entertaining and have proven a valuable aid in the furtherance of every principle for which our Church stands and may be of great assistance in the promotion of any movement that is worthwhile because by being thus unified the Club can put into actual practice any Catholic action that may be deemed necessary.

One of the greatest assets of this Club is that it has done a great deal in developing a spirit of friendly cooperation among the Catholic women of Saginaw, that has done much to promote a spirit of understanding and helpfulness among members of the various parishes which was entirely lacking in Saginaw before this time. One member expressed her feeling for the Club thus,—that she had met and come to know so very many interesting women that otherwise she never would have known and that she never would want to part with the friendships thus formed; this certainly must give the originators of the Club great satisfaction. The Club is not only confined to Catholic women but the non-Catholic wives of our Catholic men may become members also and thus become better informed of our Faith.

During the first year, it was decided that all Sisters of the various religious communities in Saginaw be made honorary members of The Catholic Study Club.

During 1932-1933 sixteen large baskets filled to overflowing were distributed to the needy by the Club, a piano was purchased, a Requiem High Mass for the deceased members was decided to be said at a different church each year and the members responded to the Red Cross call for volunteers to sew on government cotton each Monday at the Robertson Laundry.

The years 1933-1934, Mrs. Spring again presided and the meetings were held at the Gold Room of the Bancroft Hotel.

Christmas baskets for the needy again were filled and a Reflectoscope was purchased for the use of the Club in its programs.

In 1934, Mrs. Harold Vreeland was elected president with the following officers:

Vice-President.....Mrs. James V. Dwan, Jr.
Recording Secretary.....Mrs. C. E. Beverstein
Financial Secretary.....Mrs. Wm. Decker
Corresponding Secretary.....Mrs. Charles Hansen
Treasurer.....Miss Lillian Bradshaw

This year Christmas baskets were filled and given to the needy.

In 1935-1936, Mrs. Harold Vreeland again served as president with the following officers:

Vice-President.....Mrs. James Devereaux
Recording Secretary.....Mrs. C. E. Beverstein
Financial Secretary.....Mrs. Wm. Decker
Corresponding Secretary.....Mrs. C. Hansen
Treasurer.....Mrs. Martin Tuhy

At Christmas time members brought fruit and candy which was given to the St. Vincent's Orphans' Home.

In 1936-1937 the following officers were elected:

President.....Mrs. Hanford R. Topham
Vice-President.....Mrs. A. E. Clappitt
Recording Secretary.....Mrs. Wm. Decker
Financial Secretary.....Mrs. J. Buckley
Corresponding Secretary.....Mrs. J. Friske
Treasurer.....Mrs. Martin Tuhy

This year the members felt they could take on some social service work in addition to their club work and planned to sew on two afternoons each month at St. Vincent's Orphans Home. During the year, 303 articles were made for the Home, and at Christmas fruit and candy were again given to the Home.

In 1937-1938, the same officers were retained with the exception of Treasurer. Miss Jennie Meeker was appointed to this office. The theme for this year's work was "Current Conditions in the World of Today." This naturally became a study of the "isms" but the program chairman and committees were very careful to select only material from the various Catholic presses and those authorized by the Catholic press and clergy so as not to become involved in any propaganda as the Church stands for the right always.

It is noted with sorrow that during these years some of our beloved members have passed on. May we pause in silent prayer for the repose of their souls.

IN MEMORIAM

Mrs. C. Walls
Miss Mary Louise Garey
Mrs. John Desmond
Mrs. James Moore
Mrs. August Jochen
Mrs. Max Mueller
Mrs. Elmer Sager
Mrs. P. Campbell
Mrs. Fred Hauch

For the next year the following officers will take charge:

President.....Mrs. James E. O'Neill
Vice-President.....Mrs. Joseph Friske
Recording Secretary.....Mrs. Eugene Forbes
Financial Secretary.....Mrs. Otto Deisler
Corresponding Secretary.....Mrs. Robert Mooney
Treasurer.....Miss Jennie Meeker

St. Mary's Hospital

St. Mary's Hospital was founded by Reverend Francis VanderBom, the first pastor of St. Mary's Church, in August, 1874. The need for hospitalization for the thousands of men then engaged in the logging and lumbering business in the Northwestern part of the lower peninsula was made apparent principally by the casualties happening to the men engaged in the woods and sawmills. The citizens of the city of East Saginaw, and Saginaw, now comprising the City of Saginaw, united and aided Father VanderBom in his efforts to have the Sisters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul, of Emmitsburg, Maryland, take up the work of establishing and maintaining a general hospital in Saginaw. It is impossible to name all of the good people who contributed of their means and services to the establishment of St. Mary's Hospital.

The first hospital was an old frame building situated on the west side of North Washington Avenue, now Carlisle and Astor Streets. Four Sisters of Charity opened the hospital on August 15, 1874.

The site selected for the permanent St. Mary's Hospital was a fortunate one, as it is one of the highest pieces of ground in the vicinity, is easy of access to all the surrounding country. The first new hospital was built and completed in 1875 and was a wooden, three-story structure, with basement. That it was built of good material is evidenced by the fact that the building still remains on the hospital grounds and is used as a Nurses dormitory. It was equipped to accommodate eighty patients. It was this hospital building that was used during the days of extensive lumbering in this section of Michigan for the care of the injured and maimed woodsmen, who were purchasers of tickets sold to them by Hospital representatives. Demands upon St. Mary's Hospital for medical and surgical treatment became so great that a larger and more modern hospital became a necessity. In 1891 the South Wing was built and contained eighty-five hospital beds.

In 1919 the hospital, charitable and social welfare agencies of Saginaw organized into a community agency for the solicitation of money to meet their financial requirements through one annual campaign. As part of the building plan of the Saginaw Welfare League, it was determined to enlarge and add to the facilities of all the hospitals and plans were prepared for the construction of a fire-proof unit to St. Mary's Hospital with eighty-eight hospital beds and the remodeling of the brick portion known as the South Wing, giving a total accommodation of one hundred fifty-six hospital beds. The building was commenced in the spring of 1926 and was finished in July, 1927.

St. Mary's Hospital has been given a Grade A rating by the American College of Surgeons and the American Medical Association, it is one of the approved hospitals for the training of Internes. Its Nursing School and Pediatric Department have been approved by the Michigan State Board of Nursing Education and it is a member of the Central Hospital Council.

St. Vincent's Home

In the Spring of 1875, Rev. Father VanderBom, at that time Pastor of St. Mary's Church, knowing the need of a children's Home in Saginaw, brought into existence, what is now known as St. Vincent's Orphan Home. It was Father VanderBom who invited the Sisters of Charity by oft repeated messages to engage in the service of caring for fifteen children whom he had gathered. From this humble beginning, which had its origin in a small three-room dwelling on Owen Street, has sprung the present St. Vincent's Home. The work prospered and the steadily increasing number of children were accommodated in a more commodious building, erected on the spot where St. Vincent's now stands.

The year 1886 witnessed an enlargement on the building, which in its turn had proved inadequate for the number of needy ones who presented themselves.

A fire which ravaged the City in the Spring of 1893, destroyed the house on May 20th, leaving an hundred and twelve children homeless. Temporary shelter was found for them while the present building was in the course of construction. This was completed in August of the following year, and was soon filled to its capacity. Since its foundation more than fifteen thousand boys and girls have been cared for. Many of these are now occupying creditable positions.

The object of St. Vincent's is to provide a home, educate and give moral and religious training to orphans and dependent children between the ages of four and sixteen years; here every effort has been made to get away from the old institutional life, the children are given the care, attention and privileges of a good home, also the advantages of high school and trade school, and are taught sewing, cooking, decorating, and other useful arts which will be most helpful to them in later life; they have healthy and supervised recreation and the ball team plays outside schools. St. Vincent's children also enjoy outdoor life three months of the year at their Villa near Shields, which benefits them greatly, here too, all their activities are supervised. Entertainments are given by the children several times a year, these are given not merely for their pleasure and the enjoyment of their friends but as part of their training to fit them for society after they leave the Home.

Dr. C. H. Sample takes care of the children if ill and has done so for forty years, Dr. D. A. Faucher keeps the children's teeth 100%. Both doctors give their service gratis.

Last year St. Vincent's cared for one hundred and forty-nine children, at present ninety-five call St. Vincent's home. Admission to the Home may be obtained through the Probate Court or by application to the Sister in charge.

For practically seventeen years the charity of the Saginaw people, expressed through the Saginaw Welfare League, have made it possible for the Sisters to carry on. Sometimes a surviving parent may pay a little towards the support of a child and occasionally one is a County charge but largely there is no such help and it is for the maintenance of the large majority of the children of St. Vincent's that the contributors to the League earn thanks.

In May, 1938, there were 120 children in the Home.

St. Mary's Parish

St. Mary's Church, which now has the distinction of being the Cathedral of the new Saginaw Diocese, had its beginning as a small mission established by Rev. T. J. Schutzes in the eighteen-fifties. He was a member of a band of Dutch missionaries who came to minister to the pioneers of Michigan. He first planted the cross at the mouth of the Saginaw River and then pushed on to East Saginaw.

In 1863, Rev. Father R. F. Vander Hayden succeeded Father Schutzes as head of the mission. The first church of St. Mary's, a very small building compared with the present edifice, was built in the same year. This frame building seated about six hundred people and was located at Wells and Hoyt Streets. Wells Street is now Owen Street. The organizers of this first church were: Armand Philip Heller, Edward McSweeney, John Scanlon, Philip Baumgarten, Peter Geisler, and Nicholas Schmelzer. The altar in this church was brought to Saginaw on the boat "Forest City" from Detroit and was stored in an empty room in the Andrew Murray home until the new church was ready to receive it. This altar is still used in the present church of St. Mary's. On Christmas Day, 1863, the church was very fittingly dedicated to Our Blessed Lady. Father Vander Hayden was a very energetic priest but could not devote enough energy to both the growing parishes of St. Mary's and St. Andrew's. He was assigned to the care of St. Andrew's in 1866.

Father Francis VanderBom succeeded Father Vander Hayden. The success of these missionary priests was illustrated by the fact that in 1874 there were 1,432 members of St. Mary's. Through the efforts of Father VanderBom a priests' home and a school were built on Hoyt Street. The school was taught by four Immaculate Heart Sisters and had two hundred seventy pupils. Mrs. Wm. Ryan, Mrs. J. Kruzberger, and Mrs. Thomas Webber were the first to receive their First Holy Communion in St. Mary's Church, April 17, 1878, fifty-nine years ago. St. Vincent's Home was also established with the help of Father VanderBom. After twenty-three years at St. Mary's, in 1889, Father VanderBom returned to Germany.

Father Dalton, who succeeded Father VanderBom, was a true Irishman, being born in County Clare, Ireland, February 24, 1852. He received his elementary education, and finished his classical and philosophical studies in his native land. He continued preparation for the priesthood in America at Mount St. Mary Seminary, Cincinnati. He was ordained by Bishop by illness. In appreciation of his long service, his congregation gave him a trip abroad, hoping the journey would restore him to good health. They presented him with a $1600 purse for expenses. He took the Mediterranean cruise, visited the Holy Land and his birthplace, Ireland. He fell ill in Rome but completed his trip and returned to Saginaw. On October

Burgess, in the Detroit diocese. He was pastor of churches in Sandwich, Ontario; Detroit; Berlin; Ludington; Grand Haven; and Big Rapids before coming to Saginaw at the height of his career. During his pastorate at St. Mary's it was found that the old frame church was too small to accommodate the growing number of parishioners. Accordingly, the present imposing edifice was erected. While the new church was being built, services were held in the old building which had been moved across the street and fronted on Owen Street. This property was afterwards sold and dwelling houses were built on it. Many beautiful memorials and gifts were presented to Father Dalton for the new church, showing the sacrifice and devotion of the faithful. During his long service at St. Mary's, Father Dalton had been in constant attendance upon his duties except for ten days when he was confined to the hospital

9, 1913 he died at Mercy Hospital, Bay City. A Pontifical High Mass was said by Bishop Richter of Grand Rapids and the sermon was preached by Father M. J. Gallagher of Grand Rapids. There were seventy-six priests at the funeral. The church was draped in black and white, and many hundreds came to pay their last respects to beloved Father Dalton. He was buried in Calvary Cemetery. So large was the attendance at the funeral that about 1,500 individuals had to stand outside the church. St. Mary's church building, cathedral-like in size, appearance and equipment, was a monument to the life work of Father Dalton.

Rev. Father Edward A. Caldwell, a true son of Saginaw and of St. Mary's, was then appointed to take charge of the parish. Father Caldwell was born in Saginaw, attended Saginaw High, was a member of St. Mary's parish and received his religious education there. As a boy, he sawed the joists used in building the parish house. As a priest and pastor of St. Mary's he had the present school erected, and purchased a new convent for the Sisters.

Eighteen years ago, in 1920, a Catholic Instruction League was founded by Miss Fannie McIntee to teach religion to the children. At St. Mary's the teacher was Miss Mary O'Reilly; at St. Peter and Paul's, Rosemary Fitzharris; at St. Rita's, Mrs. Tuhy; and at St. George's, Mrs. Runchey. Miss McIntee, Misses Elizabeth Webster, and O'Reilly, and Mrs. Tuhy went to a K. of C. meeting allowed at a K. of C. meeting.

Having known him from boyhood, the parishioners regarded Father Caldwell as their own, and were sorry to see him go, when in 1935, after twenty-two years at St. Mary's, he was transferred to St. James, Bay City.

Rev. Father Felix Vogt, our present beloved pastor, then took up the work. He has found his way into the hearts of the members of the parish by his jolly nature and democratic methods.

And now, St. Mary's has fulfilled the fondest hope of any of those priests who helped to make her what she is today. St. Mary's is a monument to their sacrifice and hard work as the "Cathedral of the Saginaw Diocese."

"Firsts"

In 1866, on September 30, the first Baptism was administered in St. Mary's Church, to Francis Gray.

On October 22, 1866, the first marriage at St. Mary's was conducted. The bride was Maline Mercier and the groom Varis Tremble from Bay City.

The first funeral service at St. Mary's was June 10, 1868. The deceased was George Lefevre, aged twenty-three.

On January 4, 1874, the first meeting of the Council members of St. Mary's was held. The members were: Rev. Father VanderBom, L. Simoneou, Edward McSweeney, J. B. Chagnon, Adolph Schmidt, Charles Schulte, secretary, and John O'Donell, treasurer.

Rev. Francis Theodore VanderBom was born in Holland, February 12, 1835. From September, 1866 to July, 1887 he guided the rapidly growing parish of St. Mary's. Through his efforts and zeal the school was opened in 1869 and a home for the Sisters built. St. Vincent's Home is also a monument to his zeal and love of souls.

At his death, March 16, 1899, it was truly said of him that he was a devoted, zealous, learned Christian priest.

Rev. Francis Theodore VanderBom

Father Michael Dalton

Father Michael Dalton was born in County Clare, Ireland, February 24, 1852. His elementary education he received in his native land; he also completed his classical and philosophical studies there. Upon coming to America Father Dalton continued his preparations for the priesthood at Mt. St. Mary's Seminary in Cincinnati, Ohio.

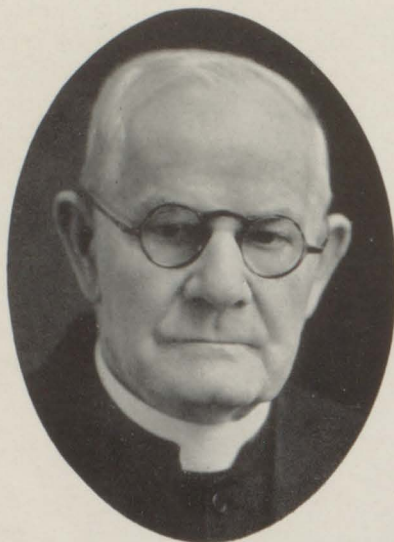

Father Dalton held pastorates at Sandwich, Ontario; Detroit; Ludington; Berlin; Grand Haven; and Big Rapids, coming to Saginaw in 1889 in the prime of his intellectual and spiritual powers to minister to the spiritual needs of St. Mary's congregation for more than twenty-four years.

The erection of the present edifice, the magnificent church of St. Mary's, with all its beautiful memorials and gifts, representing the love, devotion and sacrifices of the faithful is the work of Father Dalton.

St. Mary's Parish is indeed a monument to Father Michael Dalton who died in 1913, his congregation numbering twenty-five hundred souls at the time.

Reverend E. A. Caldwell

A life of service to mankind and the extension of the beneficent activities and influences of his Church has given Father Caldwell a place of high regard in Saginaw and elsewhere. In the school of the St. Mary's Church, of which he was the pastor for twenty-two years, he received his early education and religious instruction, and in this same church he made his first communion.

Father Caldwell was born in Detroit April 7, 1861. His parents were Thomas and Margaret Caldwell, natives of Ireland, the father being born at Kells, County of Meathe, and the mother in Borris, County Carlow. They were married in Pittsfield, Massachusetts, and came to Michigan in 1853. Ten years after they came to Saginaw, where Mr. Caldwell followed the trade of carpenter, he being especially skilled in stair-building. Both parents of Father Caldwell are now dead, resting in Calvary Cemetery, Saginaw.

Having completed his courses of study in the Church school, Edward Caldwell attended the Saginaw High School, from which he entered Assumption College, Sandwich, Ontario, where he continued his studies in preparation for his theological course. The finishing touches to his religious instructions were added at Louvaine, Belgium, where his spiritual path was moulded and made clear.

Returning to his native land, filled with enthusiasm to render exalted service in the extension of the Kingdom of Christ, he was ordained to the priesthood and began a life of spiritual duty at St. Patrick's Church, Grand Haven. He had charge of that Church for three years, when he was transferred to St. Mary's Church, Cheboygan, from which he was sent to begin a long pastorate at St. Mary's Church, Bay City.

Upon the death of Father Michael Dalton, pastor of St. Mary's Church, Saginaw, which occurred on October 9th, 1913, Father Caldwell came to his large and influential parish. The congregation then numbered more than 25,000 souls, and its many activities in religious and charitable work it had the inspiration and example of this consecrated priest. In 1914 he was appointed Dean of Saginaw, which includes Saginaw, Midland, Isabella, and Gratiot Counties.

Since serving St. Mary's, Rev. Father Caldwell has been a leader in building a parish that is outstanding in the Grand Rapids diocese. During his pastorate the parish property has been increased by the addition of a house and yard on Thompson Street, which was remodeled for a home for the Dominican Sisters, teachers in the school. A large new fireproof school was erected on the Hoyt Avenue frontage in 1921. In addition to this expansion program, Father Caldwell reduced his parish's indebtedness two-thirds from its original total of $300,000. For twenty-two years he served here at St. Mary's. For each of his years of service his accomplishments are rated high by Bishop Joseph G. Pinten of Grand Rapids diocese. To Father Caldwell his people were as one great family which he had known and loved for a lifetime, and they, having known him so many years, regard him as their own.

On October 31 he was ordered to take over St. James' Parish, Bay City, which took him back to the city from whence he came to St. Mary's, Saginaw. He has labored there in the service of God for three years and is the present pastor of St. James' Parish, Bay City.

Father Joseph Culligan

In the short time he has been with us, Father Culligan has not only furnished us a shining example of a zealous Catholic priest but has also proved his worth as a musician in his work of training the talented Cathedral Choir. He has inspired us by his patience and perseverance in organizing the male choir and by the energy used in preparing the program for the installation.

A Tribute to Miss Guenin

The students of St. Mary's School wish to pay a humble but heartfelt tribute to Miss Louise Guenin, who, with untiring and unceasing faithfulness has been their organ accompanist each morning as they sang the Mass. Even during the first few weeks—when singing was a new and untraveled road to them—she diligently followed through all the “ups and downs”—beginners inevitably have.

Then, too, in the organization of the recently acquired installation choir—she was prominently figured. Any time of the day or night, her services gladly given—she was called upon to rehearse for the forthcoming big event. Never once did she utter a word of complaint or restlessness—thus winning the admiration of all with whom she came in contact.

We thank you, Miss Guenin—and hope that in future years you will continue to be “our” organist and that with your artful accompanying the choir of St. Mary's Cathedral may be one that will lend prayerful dignity to any occasion.

St. Mary's P. T. A.

Early in the year 1920, the need for a society which would bring the parents into closer relation with the teachers, was realized by the ladies of the parish. Accordingly, they met at the school and formally organized St. Mary's Parent-Teacher Association. They were given encouragement and splendid cooperation by the pastor, Rev. Father Caldwell.

Mrs. W. Daily was elected the first president. Her first act was to appoint the necessary committee chairmen. Among the accomplishments of the first year was the obtaining of free milk and wafers for needy school children.

Mrs. William Jahnke was the president in 1923. During this year the first annual cake sale was given. With the money derived from various activities the P. T. A. began to purchase desks for the school. This year, also, high school girls were bidden to wear blue serge uniforms.

In 1924, under President, Mrs. Leo Weadock, the P. T. A. hired a physical education instructor for the school. Her salary was paid by donations. This year the membership was raised to 243.

A new laboratory table costing $50 was purchased by the P. T. A. in 1925-26. This year the gymnasium was fully equipped ($617) and paid for with funds derived from various activities. Mrs. Devereaux was the president.

A permanent male gym instructor was engaged in 1927 through the zealous efforts of the P. T. A. under the leadership of Mrs. Devereaux.

In 1929 the idea was put in action that each grade should have a parent to look after it. This lady was called the "grade mother." The school had been painted previously and the P. T. A. gave nearly $500 toward the payment of this debt.

New desks for the 3d grade were purchased in 1930 and the school library was catalogued throughout. Mrs. A. D. LeFevre was president this year.

During these years the programs were made specially interesting several times by the work of guest speakers of superlative quality. Among these were the Rt. Rev. William F. Stadelman of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, and Father Babcock, chaplain of the University of Michigan.

Every year Father Caldwell was present as the honorary president of the society.

In 1932, Fred O'Hara was named our delegate to the state convention at Kalamazoo. The president this year was Mrs. Arthur Weadock.

The following years were busy ones for the P. T. A. They sponsored many activities and aided the school in many things.

Mrs. Leo Hendricks was the president for two years, 1935 and 1936. During that time the desire was realized for free text books for students. Mrs. Hendricks was the delegate at the state convention in Grand Rapids in 1934.

This past year has been an active one for the P. T. A. Along with Mrs. Ellertorpe, the president, Mr. Harry Green was the head of the father-members. Meetings were attended in goodly numbers and the slogan was, "A Better Knowledge of Child Psychology."

Reviewing the past eighteen years of splendid accomplishment by the parents of St. Mary's Parish, we must give credit where credit is due, and surely these good workers merit our deep appreciation and gratitude for their noble work. I sincerely hope that this may serve not only as a tribute to past achievements but as an encouragement to future members.

St. Mary's School

1869—1938

(Excerpts from the Annals of Saginaw Mission as written in the Archives of the Sisters of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, Monroe, Mich.)

On the second of September, 1869, in compliance with the urgent request of the pastor, Reverend F. VanderBom, Sisters Joanna, Anastasia and Eulalia, left the Motherhouse, in Monroe, Michigan, to open a school at Saint Mary's East Saginaw.

At the depot a carriage was in waiting, and the Sisters were most cordially received and welcomed by the pastor. On the evening of their arrival, the convent, small but conveniently furnished, was blessed. The school, comprising two large rooms, was opened the following week. The first day one hundred and fifty pupils were enrolled, this gradually increased to two hundred.

In October, the Right Reverend Bishop Lefevre visited the Mission and expressed himself as well pleased with the Mission and the work accomplished. A little later, Mother Gertrude, the General Superior, accompanied by Sister Angela (Marum) also visited the school and examined the various classes.

On the feast of All Souls, the Sisters with the children attended the High Mass, sung for the repose of the departed souls, after which was inaugurated the beautiful and laudable custom of a procession to the cemetery, where all joined in prayer for the holy Souls in Purgatory. The ceremony was conducted by the Reverend Pastor.

The Sodality of Our Blessed Mother was established December 8, 1869. On the great Feast of the Immaculate Conception, an ardent wish of Father VanderBom was gratified by the formation and reception of twenty-five young girls into the Children of Mary Society. Each member was invested with a blue ribbon and a Medal of the Immaculate Conception, as a pledge and symbol of her devotion and loyalty to our Blessed Mother. At the same time, the Saint Aloysius Society for boys was organized. The beautiful ceremony closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament after which all repaired to the school-house where a bounteous banquet was served by the young ladies of the parish.

The Christmas festivities were splendidly carried out, December twenty-fourth. Two large Christmas trees were filled with gifts and the pupils were allowed to choose in the order of their scholastic records. Reverend Father VanderBom and his assistant bestowed the gifts; they in turn were remembered and greeted by a song of welcome and an address.

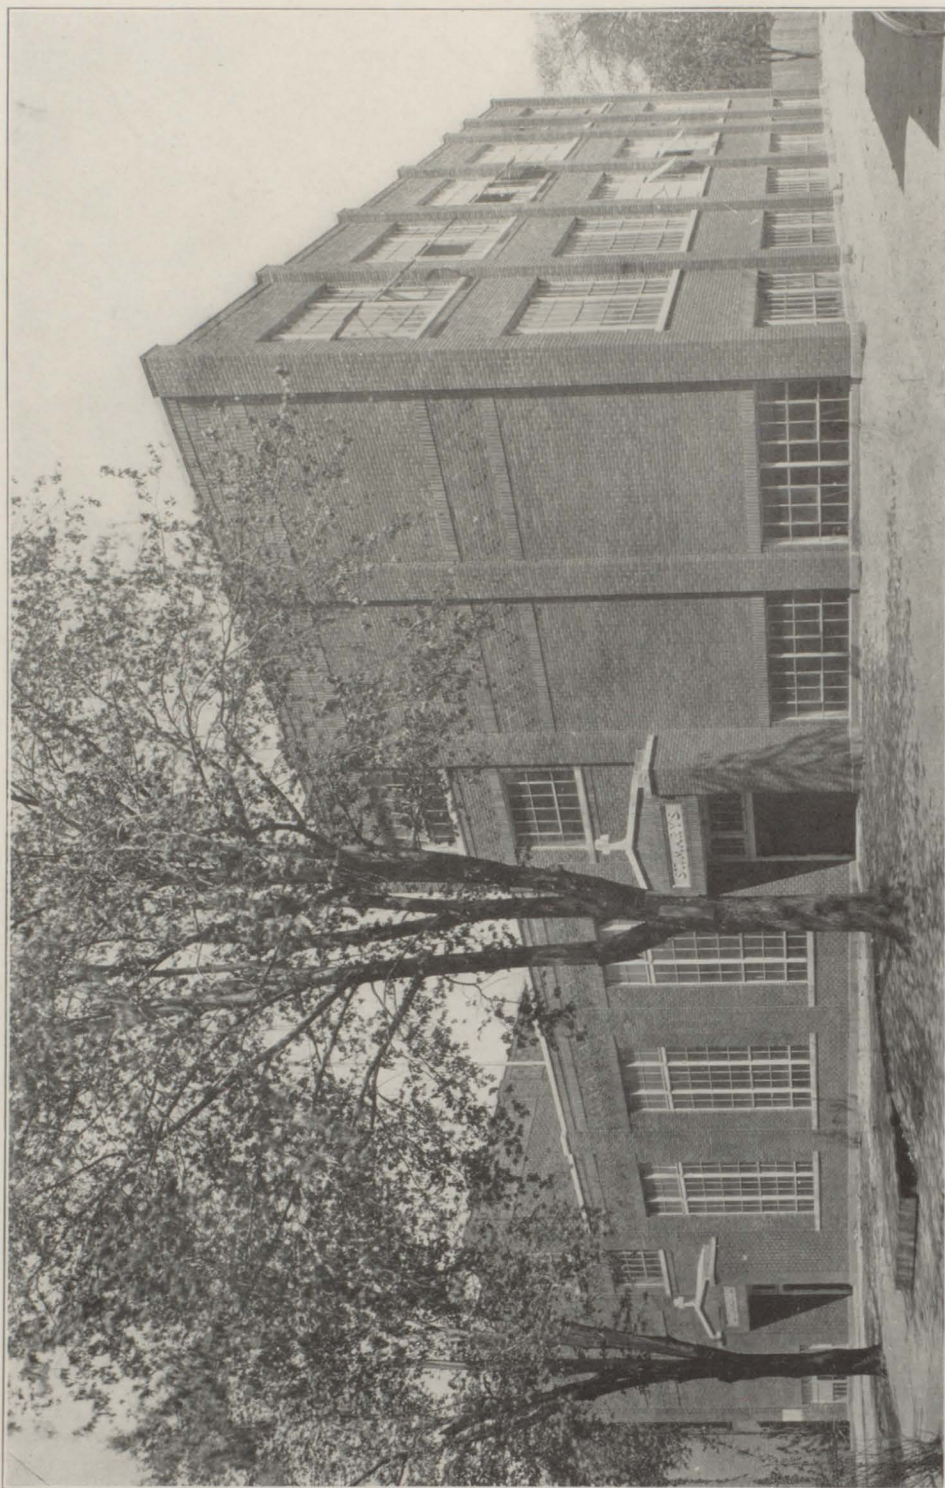

On February 4, 1870, both the Pastor and the Sisters were favored by a visit from Reverend Edward Joos, the Director and Chaplain of the Sisters, Servants of the Immaculate Heart of Mary at Monroe, Michigan.

In February, Father VanderBom left for Europe, summoned there by the serious illness of his Mother. Before leaving, the parishioners presented him with a purse of two hundred dollars, as a testimony of their love and appreciation. After an absence of four months, he returned to his parish and was gladly welcomed home. A few weeks later the children received their First Holy Communion.

During the Summer vacation of 1870, the school building was enlarged and in September the school re-opened with a large attendance. On Easter Sunday, 1871, the children made their First Holy Communion and during Vespers in the afternoon renewed their Baptismal Vows.

Within the first week of May, 1871, the Sisters took possession of their new Convent adjoining the school premises. This year school closed by an entertainment followed by a grand picnic on the fourth of July.

About August 16th, the Sisters returned from Monroe. On September 11, 1871, Right Reverend Caspar Borgess, the new Bishop of the Detroit Diocese, administered the Sacrament of Confirmation to the pupils of Saint Mary's. He preached an eloquent sermon, praised the zeal and faith of the pastor and people in having established a Catholic school. The Right Reverend Bishop also honored the little Community by a visit.

December 3d, the patronal feast of the Pastor, was duly observed with an address and song of greeting by the children of the school, and the presentation of a Crucifix and a beautiful set of china.

The teaching staff was enlarged by the addition of another teacher. The number of children increased, and at times could scarcely be accommodated with seats. The Sisters found plenty to do in the vineyard of our Lord, and carried on the work with earnestness and courage.

And so passed the various activities throughout the school years.

In 1874, the parish was divided. This notably lessened the number of children in attendance, and so only two Sisters returned in August. In July, 1875, the Sisters returned to the Motherhouse, and it was thought well by Superiors not to have them return to Saginaw Mission.

(Excerpts from the Archives of the Sisters of Providence, St. Mary-of-the-Woods, Indiana.)

The Reverend Pastor of St. Mary's, East Saginaw, Father Francis VanderBom, first entered into negotiations with the Sisters of Providence of Saint Mary-of-the-Woods, Indiana, to obtain Sisters for his school in May, 1876. A few months later, an agreement was made by which the Sisters would build a school at their own expense on the land owned by the parish. At that time the good Catholic people of the city were too burdened with a debt on their hospital to build a school. In August, 1878, the Sisters came to take charge of the school, a large commodious brick structure, well suited to the purpose of an Academy for young girls and a school for children. The convent was a modest frame building which had formerly been occupied by the Sisters from Monroe, Michigan, who had taught the parish school in the old church, now too old for use as a school.

There were eight Sisters in the first band. Sister Mary Matthew, Superior of St. Andrew's accompanied them, as she had supervised the erection of the building. Sister Mary Cyril, who was the Sister Superior, had been among those who opened St. Andrew's Saginaw City, in 1875. Her companions were: Sisters Mary Augusta, Mary Therese, Mary Genevieve, St. Germaine, Thecla, Mary Clement and Mary Mechtildis. Of these, Sisters Mary Cyril and Thecla are still living.

The Sisters spent the first few weeks in apostolic poverty, for the convent was only slightly furnished and the income from the school was small for sometime. The good Pastor did all in his power to alleviate the need, but his own means were quite limited, and he could not do a great deal to help the Sisters financially. The Sisters arrived on Saturday evening at nine o'clock and the stores being closed on Sunday, a baker near the school obligingly opened his shop to sell bread to them. For the first days, even bedding and table linens were lacking.

The School opened in September. Because it bore the name Academy—St. Mary's Academy—it attracted the daughters of many excellent families of the city, non-Catholic as well as Catholic. These pupils continued in the school until their graduation. The education given by the Sisters even in those early days was broadly cultural, and the Academy drew patrons and admirers from the whole civic population; public officials, editors, professional men, etc. The good Catholic people of the parish cooperated with the Sisters beautifully, and their devoted loyalty forms one of the cherished memories of the Sisters who labored at St. Mary's. The principal of the nearby Hoyt Public School offered the Pastor and the Sisters the use of his school hall, or gymnasium, and other assistance, thus indicating the generous attitude of the non-Catholic population.

The first spiritual activity inaugurated at the Academy was the establishment of the League of the Sacred Heart of Jesus. In connection with this devotion it is recalled that Mrs. Morass (the mother of two of the Academy pupils, Lottie and Blanche) was cured of a serious ailment of the eyes by the prayers of the Sisters to the Sacred Heart, and their petition for prayers through The Messenger of the Sacred Heart.

The Reverend Pastor was deeply interested in the school, was most zealous for the religious instruction of the children, visited the classes frequently, and cooperated with the Sisters in their every effort for the advancement of the children, showing a particular interest in the high school. According to the memory of Sister Celestine who was at St. Mary's from 1881 to 1887, the first graduating class was in June, 1882, with two girls in the class. The Reverend Pastor decided that the first graduates should prove their fitness for a diploma by a public examination and thus testify to the excellence of Catholic education. The examiners he chose were the Honorable Mayor, the attorney, Timothy Tarsney, Mr. Thompson, a well-known accountant, and another gentleman, the last two being non-Catholics. The two pupils were given a written examination on various subjects, and on the appointed evening they, their teacher and Superior, the Pastor and the four Examiners assembled in the music room of the Academy. On the blackboard was written the list of subjects the pupils had studied. Each Examiner chose the subject on which he wished to examine, looked over the examination papers, asked a few questions about them, and then proceeded to give an oral examination. The pupils gave satisfaction, and were highly praised for the very advanced character of their training. This was the only public examination required of graduating classes, for in the years that followed graduates were accepted on the successful examination of the first two.

When Saginaw became a part of the diocese of Grand Rapids in 1883, the school was frequently visited by his Excellency, Most Reverend Bishop Richter, accompanied by several of the clergy.

One of the pleasant memories of those days was the celebration of Father VanderBom's jubilee. Various musical and literary numbers were presented, a significant one being the twenty-six little girls in white, blue, and silver costumes who recited verses about the events of the Pastor's life and offered jubilee greetings.

It was Sister St. Maurice who laid the foundation of the Catholic School Library at St. Mary's. The Library was begun and supported by the income from the entertainments given by the children on holidays such as Thanksgiving.

In 1907, the school which the Sisters had supported and conducted with increasing financial difficulty for several years passed into the custody of the parish.

The Sisters of Providence withdrew from St. Mary's parish in July, 1907, after twenty-nine years of labor among an excellent Catholic people who they loved and esteemed.

The following entered the Community of the Sisters of Providence of Saint Mary-of-the-Woods, from St. Mary's parish:

Sister Mary Lewis.....	Dorothea Nachtweih	1881
Sister Marie	Rose Besner	1882
*Sister Francis Cecile, R.I.P.	Octavia Guenin	1883
Sister Mary Monica	Ann McPhee	1895
Sister Agnes Cecile	Julia O'Connor	1897
Sister Mary Agnes	Julia Sullivan	1903

ST. MARY'S 1907-38

Following closely in the footsteps of the Sisters of Providence of Saint-Mary-of-the-Woods, Indiana, came the Sisters of St. Dominic, Grand Rapids, Michigan to St. Mary's in the fall of 1907.

Casting a retrospective glance over these first years reveals obstacles, hardships, and trials but always intermingled with surprises, happiness, and contentedness over which the glorious sun of God's blessings seemed ever to rest. The first Dominican Superior of St. Mary's Convent was Sister Mary Eleanor and Sister M. Bertrand was appointed as Principal. In June 1908 two graduates received their diplomas. From this year on, young men as well as young women were allowed to graduate.

St. Mary's Literary Society was established in 1911. The pupils derived innumerable benefits from the work done along this line for they developed dramatic as well as literary powers.

In 1912, after St. Mary's high school had been duly examined and approved, it was admitted to the accredited list of the University of Michigan which insured its duly qualified, recommended graduates admission to our State University without entrance examinations.

October of 1913 ushered in a cloud of sorrow for St. Mary's School and Parish when it became known that the Pastor, Reverend Michael Dalton, had died at Mercy Hospital, Bay City. He had about completed a quarter century of service as Rector of St. Mary's and had lived to see the erection and consecration of the splendid church we are so justly proud of now. It might be of interest to the general public of today to read an excerpt from the Saginaw papers of 1913,—

"St. Mary's Church building today is cathedral-like in its size, architectural appearance, and equipment, and in a sense, it stands as a monument to the life work of Reverend Father Dalton, who devoted his time, his energy and his powers to bring the scheme to fruition. He and his people accomplished a mighty work in bringing this church building into being, and though his death is deeply regretted, there is left the consolation that he had earned his right to sing his 'nunc dimittis'."

In the latter part of bleak November, 1913, Reverend E. A. Caldwell, returned to the city of his childhood as Pastor of St. Mary's. He received this appointment as a big tribute to years of faithful service in other parishes. One can picture his feelings when he realized that before the same altar of St. Mary's where daily he would say Holy Mass, he had years before received his First Holy Communion. To his school children, young and old, he was familiarly known as "Dean," and was loved and respected by them all during his twenty-two pleasant years at St. Mary's.

The patriotism imbibed at St. Mary's was put into practical use during the years of the World War when many of the Old Grads volunteered and some were sent across and engaged in active service. Lieutenant Angelo Dente, Sergeant Vincent Byerlein and James McKittrick entered service overseas. Lieutenant Francis J. McDonald was stationed at Camp Chillicothe, Ohio while Ensign Alfred Slagert was assigned coast duty. Lieutenant Frank Seymour saw service during our trouble with Mexico in 1914 and was also a volunteer in the World War. Our only girl graduate in the service, Miss Margaret R. McKittrick paid the supreme debt with her life.

Classes of 1915 and 1916 were responsible for the sponsoring of Athletic Activities which have grown with the years. Fine football teams were organized, which won honors in 1920, while an excellent basketball team won a valley championship in three successive years, the last in 1925.

With the graduates of '15 will ever be united the memory of having bravely attempted and successfully issued the first edition of the School Annual, "The Labarum."

During Easter week of 1917 the Alumni of St. Mary's High School formally organized into an Association. This foundation of the Alumni Association might be said to have formed the boundary line between "Old" St. Mary's and the "New" St. Mary's, for soon a plan was projected to erect a new structure more in keeping with the scope of the educational work being done at St. Mary's.

1920 witnessed the tearing down of the old historic Convent and School, the breaking of ground for the present modern School structure, and the remodeling of the Convent on Thompson Street.

One can hardly pass over this important period without a word sketch of ways and means of school housing during the time between the razing of the old school and the erection of the new building. School closed in May of that year for all but the Seniors of the 1920 Class. Reverend Father Caldwell and his Assistant secured rooms at St. Vincent's Home, and the Sisters were moved to the Rectory on Hoyt. There, every morning until Graduation time, the Seniors were tutored in the large living room that had been fitted up with school accessories. During the summer months curiosity ran high among the student body as to what plans would materialize for fall—many hoping and perhaps praying that an extended vacation would be granted. But alas! They failed to reckon with the ingenuity of Pastor and Faculty, September fourteenth found all but Grade eight lodged in the Church basement, or "Catacombs" as the students named it. Four partitions formed by chapel pews on end marked the four rooms in each section. Then, on a great day, such as Armistice day, for example, the cleverly partitioned classrooms were magically converted into one large auditorium for a patriotic Assembly! Picture the self control that had to be exercised by faculty and student body, yet all of that day will unite in saying that real "honest-to-goodness" school work was done.

On a certain Monday morning in February of 1921, the "Catacomb" quarters were abandoned for entrance into the modern fireproof building that now graces the grounds where once stood the old red brick school and convent. Borrowing from the sentiments of the students of that day found in the 1921 Labarum:

"Oh, ain't it a grand and glorious feelin', this settling down to the happy routine of school life in the best school in Michigan!"

The Class of '22 enjoyed the pleasant distinction of beginning its studies in the halls of Old St. Mary's and of completing them in the New.

Living in such spacious quarters and enjoying sunny classrooms, wide corridors and a large Gym bespoke responsibilities. In 1924, St. Mary's first entered in the State Music Contest conducted in Mt. Pleasant, Michigan, at Central State College. The music participants were entered in Class B and won all three events in elimination contests, and captured first place in Mixed Chorus, second in Boys' Glee Club and third in Girl's Chorus events in the finals. Around this time, too, a fine orchestra was formed.

Boy Scouts held an important place in the life of the school. Troup 13 ranked among the best in Saginaw.

A large and growing Parent Teacher Association is listed among the School's successful organizations of this period and praise is due to the Fathers and Mothers who sacrificed to help equip the new building.

The Sodality of Our Lady which from the first years of existence of the school played a prominent part in the lives of the students was organized in 1930 so as to include boys as well as girls. A Prefect, Vice-Prefect, Secretary and Treasurer were elected and Committees and their Chairmen appointed. Our Sodality was represented in the National Sodality Convention held in Chicago in 1930 by the Misses Ellen Carpenter and Angeline Cronkite, and Messrs. Ernest Kretchmer, Brian, and Richard Weadock; in 1932 Chicago Convention by William Charters; in St. Louis, Missouri in 1935 by William Schirmer; and in 1938 by Eugene Armstrong, John Gilmour, Joseph Schaeffer, Robert McDonough, Hanford Topham, Roger Hendrick, John Loessel, Jean Slaggett and Helen Schmelzer.

Through the years great stress was laid on Oral Speech. When financial conditions permitted, a special Teacher was added to the English Department who took full charge of the Dramatic Work. In the other years this work was included in the regular English classes. As an outgrowth of this Department, play giving has ever claimed the interest of the students. Such productions as "A Lily of the Mohawks," "Nothing But The Truth," "A Prince There Was," "So This Is Hollywood," "The Tailor Made Man," "College Daze," "Lands of Heart's Contents," and the favorite of this season, "Growing Pains" are some that have thrilled large audiences. In the field of oratory, Debating Clubs were organized and entered in the State Debating Contests, Extemporaneous Speaking, and Oratorical Contests. On through the years many valuable prizes were won for the writing of Compositions that gained both local and national recognition.

From nineteen hundred eight to the present day a splendid Commercial Department has been maintained. Valuable positions held by old Graduates in the Business World will attest to the high standard of the work carried on in High School.

On October 15, 1935 St. Mary's school children had to bid goodbye to their "Dean" who had watched over, guided, and guarded them through the years since nineteen hundred and thirteen. Reverend Father Caldwell was made Pastor of St. James' Parish, Bay City.

Shortly after, Rev. Felix Vogt was appointed Pastor of St. Mary's and immediately found his way into the hearts of the student body of the School through his jolly good nature and pleasing disposition.

You who read have often heard the story of the best wine being served last at Cana's feast, and so it seems that God has reserved His choicest gifts to St. Mary's for the last year. We chronicle before 1938 Labarum goes to Press: the dream of years has become a reality; from June 1, with the Installation of Reverend Bishop Murphy as first Bishop of the new Saginaw Diocese, St. Mary's School has become a Cathedral School!

Junior Class

Although still enjoying the things of childhood, playing pranks of girls and boys, worrying parents, teachers and friends, the happy Juniors are emerging from their youthful ways and give promise of becoming an excellent Senior Class of which St. Mary's Cathedral School may well be proud. Already the lonesomeness that grasps a graduating class is closing in around them for they have been united as a class for eleven years and the ties of friendship and comradeship are strong.

One more year of serious student life interspersed with the necessary social events and strengthened with the wholesome Catholic atmosphere of St. Mary's School and the Class of 1939 will take their places among the other favored members of our parish.

Leadership in the class was delegated to Leo Keating as president in the freshman year, Lloyd Haynes in the sophomore year and Helen Schmelzer in the Junior year.

Labarum Staff

The Labarum Staff of 1937-1938 completed its work with the April issue. Every student of St. Mary Cathedral School voices his gratitude to the staff. Reviving a discontinued publication and interesting the student body anew is a task calling for most humble and persevering work. Such is the task accomplished by the Staff.

In May the new Staff was elected and to it was committed the work of preparing this Souvenir Labarum.

Editor-in-Chief Lloyd Haynes
Managing Editor..... Ann Gerhart
Business Manager..... Edward Sampierre
Advertising Manager..... Robert McDonough

With the cooperation of the assistants in each division of the work the editors have completed the arranging and publishing of a book which is awaited by parishioners, alumni and student. If the staff continues its work in the same spirit of self-sacrifice the Labarum of the coming year will be a publication of which any Class A school can be proud.

Our Sodality

The erection of the Sodality of Our Lady at St. Mary's can be traced back to December 8, 1869. At that time, to the great pleasure of Father VanderBom, Twenty-five young girls of St. Mary's were received into the Children of Mary Society. Each member received the traditional blue ribbon and a medal of the Immaculate Conception. This year also saw the Saint Aloysius Society for boys organized.

Under the capable leadership of the Sisters of the Immaculate Heart and the Sisters of Providence the Sodality developed rapidly and was an active thriving body when the Sisters of St. Dominic took over the school in 1907. In the following year December 8, the Feast of the Immaculate Conception, became the reception day for the Sodality. Every year saw an increasing number of girls received into the organization and for many years it was the custom to allow girls to be members from the time they made their first Holy Communion.

Although the primary function of the Sodality has always been the improvement of our spiritual side, old graduates will always remember the pleasant social gatherings that for many years followed the religious ceremony of Reception on the annual feasts of Our Lady. Two outstanding bright-lights of this nature were the unveiling of the statue of Our Lady of Lourdes in memory of Sister M. Calista, a favorite primary teacher who died in service at St. Mary's, and of the large Rosary Group that graces the second floor corridor and has become dear to the hearts of all high school students.

The greatest period in the history of the Sodality came in the spring of 1930 when under the guidance of faculty members a reorganization took place and for the first time boys as well as girls became members. A delegation consisting of Sisters Aquin and Lucy Marie, the Misses Ellen Carpenter and Angeline Cronkite, and the Messrs. Ernest Kretchmer, Brian, and Richard Weadock, were sent to the first Sodality Convention held at the Palmer House in Chicago. They received many worthwhile ideas on how a modern Sodality is organized and in the following year with Richard Weadock as Prefect they proceeded to put them into actual practice. The organization consisted of the following officers: Prefect, Vice-Prefect, Secretary and Treasurer, the chairman of the various committees and the faculty advisers. The following year, under the leadership of Neil Barnett as Prefect and through the untiring efforts of the Sisters, our Sodality became completely organized and was admitted to the "Prima Primena" the international Sodality Union with headquarters in Rome. William Charters, the Prefect of 1932-33 did a great deal to arouse student interest in the Sodality especially among the boys. This year also saw the first retreat, a three-day period which has become an annual occurrence. Inspired by the excellent example of Prefect Thomas Seaman the many Sodality practices such as attending Mass and devotions during

May and the helping of unfortunates at Thanksgiving and Christmas were practiced most diligently by all members. In 1934-35 we gave the Sodality back to the girls as it were by the unanimous election of Helen Dore as Prefect and the great success of the Sodality that year proves her worth.

Thomas Blair brought the leadership back to the boys the following year and the next year William Schirmer carried on the good work of the Prefect.

In this memorable year of 1937-38 the Sodality has carried out many activities. Since the reorganization, the Sodality has kept itself associated with the head office under the leadership of Father Lord and has sent one or more delegates to their conventions. This year a large group, composed of Sisters Austin and Madeleine, Prefect Jack Gilmour, Misses Helen Schmelzer and Jean Slaggert, and Messrs. Robert McDonough, Hanford Topham, Joseph Schaeffer, Jack Loessel, Eugene Armstrong, and Rodger Hendrick attended the convention in Chicago.

This year also marked the formation of the Saginaw Students Sodality Union, an organization of all Catholic High School Sodalities in Saginaw Valley for the purpose of united strength in doing the works of Catholic Action. The year closed with a Procession, another annual custom at St. Mary's, composed of all the school children and a solemn crowning of the statue of the Blessed Virgin.

Music

Down through the years of progressiveness and civilization, music has remained a foremost part of America's development. In the advancement of music in America there will always follow a purification of mind and heart, and that unity in good purpose making us a nation vigorous and righteous. Handicapped by a much later artistic beginning than other countries, America has at last begun to take her rightful place in the world of Art.

And so it is with St. Mary's School which has kept pace with the rapid growth of the desire for more and better musicians. Music has been taught to an extraordinarily large class since the school was first founded in 1869. Many music graduates have issued from St. Mary's. Some names found in the interval from 1892-1908 under the Sisters of Providence were: Charlotte Naegely, Louise Guenin, Cecile Scanlon, Dorothy Eastman, Miss Desham, Mae Connelly, and Louise Smith. In 1908 the Dominican Sisters were placed in charge and Sister Eleanor was the first music teacher in the new regime. From 1908-1911 many of her advanced pupils were presented in recitals at the Germain Temple of Music. In 1910 Father DeQuoy directed an orchestra composed of St. Mary's music pupils. Among the graduates in music in 1911 was Ella Mae Ryan. George Gramlich, though not a music graduate from St.

Mary's, possessed a truly marvelous voice, which led him, after a few years to Hollywood, later to study in Italy. On his return to America he took as his pseudonym "Rob Royce," and sang over the radio, being engaged by Fox Movietone in 1929. In 1930 he went to Berlin to continue his studies. Since his return he has had engagements in New York and Chicago and is at present singing over the radio from Hollywood, California. From 1925-1927 Mary Frances Abele, Helen Grohman, and Gertrude Lee completed the music course at St. Mary's.

In 1925 St. Mary's high school competed in a state music contest for the first time, and made an exceptionally fine showing, winning out over strong competition from many much larger schools. The students entered Class B in three events—mixed chorus, girls' glee club, and boys' glee club, and carried off first place in all three at the eliminating contest in District A held on May 13 at Mt. Pleasant. They were then entitled to compete for State Championship in the tournament on Friday, May 15. In the finals, St. Mary's led the state in Class B in choral work, gaining seventeen points. Justin McDonough, bass soloist, was awarded second place, while Miss Catherine Shea and Miss Marion Fesler were awarded first places respectively as Soprano and Accompanist.

In 1929 St. Mary's high school presented a musical comedy entitled, "Pep A Plenty." In 1932 the Catholic Parochial Schools of the city were instrumental in producing a second musical comedy, "College Daze" and one of the participants from St. Mary's was Mary Jane Jungklas, a music student of that time. Included in the list of earnest music students was Miss Elizabeth Piaszek, a former graduate of St. Mary's high school. Though she is an artistic pianist, Miss Piaszek has continued her studies in our music school and delights all who hear her both as a soloist and an accompanist.

Frequently during the past two years two Music Instructors were needed to care for all the students applying. During the past three years, again the music class reached such proportions that it necessitated the addition of the second teacher on the staff.

This year four recitals were given, the first on May 17. "A Birthday gift for the Princess," an operetta, was presented by the elementary students, and on May 20, the school orchestra made its appearance at the musical which presented the music pupils of the seventh and eighth grades. These young musicians played pieces that displayed remarkable talent, not only in piano but also on wind instruments, and in vocal presentations by the eighth grade Glee Club. The gala event of the year took place on May 24, when Miss Virginia Keith and Mr. Thomas Ellertorpe graduated, assisted by Miss Jacqueline Leaning, pianist, Mr. Maurice Ecarius, vocalist, and Miss Dorothy Bradley, accompanist. On May 27 the advanced pupils including the high school boys' and girls' glee clubs, appeared. At the close of this program Rev. Father

Felix Vogt gave a short talk and awarded scholarships to Miss Jacqueline Leaning, winner of the High School Scholarship and to Miss Sally Ann Jungklas, a close runner-up, a partial one. Misses Dixie Lou Mueller and Rosemary Beckley of the eighth grade tied for the intermediate award. Further awards were made to Mary Tuhy, Frances Ann Hayes, Jack Runchey, Jack Boheim, Patricia Jahnke, Marion Pendell, Mary Patricia Boheim, Polly Kirn, Beverly Bauer, Robert Mavelle, James Colpean, Jo Ann Kelly, Marion De Corte, and Shirley Maxwell.

St. Mary's is noted not only for its instrumental music but also for its excellent choirs, one under the capable direction of Rev. Father J. Culligan, composed of men and women from the parish, and the other, a high school choir under the direction of the Sisters of the Music Department. The girl's choir sings for all the Holy Week Services each year and considers it an honor and a privilege to do so. At the installation of our new bishop, Bishop Murphy, the men's choir and school choir were brought together for the first time. A broadcast over radio carried this music to the air. Numerous messages were received from far and near on the superb performance of this combined choir. We salute you!

We pause a moment to gaze into the future of the various phases of the music department of St. Mary's Cathedral and there comes to us the conviction that its growth will be continuous not only in students but primarily in its ability to teach them to attain the pinnacle of artistic achievement. Its motto shall always be "Onward March" and so the masses shall be taught appreciation of music which is one of God's gifts to man.

My Rosary

Sweet roses of Our Lady
Daily shall we entwine
Into fair wreaths and garlands,
Before our dear Queen's shrine,
With all a child's affection—
Our rosary, we'll repeat,
And lay our fragrant blossoms,
Close to our Mother's feet.

When evening shades shall gather
And life's bright lamp grows pale,
When earthly friends and treasures
Prove fruitless of avail,
Our comfort, then O Mother,
Shall solely be from Thee,
Plead with us, Thy Son for mercy,
Dear Queen of the Rosary.

Athletics at St. Mary's

Athletics has always played an important part in the history of St. Mary's Cathedral High.

Under the direction of Linus M. Schrems, now Father Schrems, the first basketball team was organized in the winter of 1916. The first athletic contest in St. Mary's history was played on Monday, January 17 at the Manual Training Gym against East Trade School with St. Mary's the victors 18 to 1. The first season was very successful with St. Mary's winning five out of six contests. The line-up consisted of Richard J. Walsh, Captain and Francis J. McGovern at forwards. Coach Schrems played center with Urban C. Oswald and Edward E. Weadock at guards. The subs were James U. Dwan, Edward L. Slaggert, now Grand Knight of the Saginaw K. of C. and Thomas C. McKittrick.

Organized football made its bow at St. Mary's in the fall of 1920. The first team was coached by Rev. James Reardon and captained by Joseph Blanke. The team had a very good record for its first season, winning five, losing two and tying one.

St. Mary's basketball team made history in 1923 by copping the state basketball title. The Red and White were coached by Rex Emery.

Very seldom in St. Mary's athletic history has the Cathedral school been represented by a losing team. Some of the coaches to see service have been Arthur Weadock, Howard Schmelzer, Walter McMullen, Walter Truckner, Merle Ecarius, Sam Burns, William Shea, Tony Albosta, Ed. Barnett, John Fredericks, Joseph Friske and Charles Crosson.

Basketball on Review—1933

St. Mary's—29 St. Joseph's—11

The Scarlet and Grey opened their '37-'38 cage season with a bang. Jack Conway leading the way with 13 points.

St. Mary's—23 St. James—32

After outplaying the Irish in the first half, St. Mary's suffered a relapse in the last half as St. James couldn't miss the hoop. Conway was St. Mary's big gun.

St. Mary's—27 St. Matthew's, Flint—29

In one of the most thrilling games ever played on the local floor the Scarlet and Grey dropped a heart-breaker in the last minute of play after leading all the way.

St. Mary's—34 St. Andrew's—32

St. Mary's drew first blood in the City Catholic race by downing a scrappy West Side five. Jack Conway hit the hoop for 15 points.

St. Mary's—26 SS. Peter and Paul—30

The Scarlet and Grey five although putting up a great fight fell short in the last period, George Cole and Jack Conway turning in great games.

St. Mary's—27 St. Andrew's—20

In a game marked by fisticuffs St. Mary's downed St. Andrew's for the second time.

St. Mary's—49; St. Joseph's, Bay City—11

Against a small, inexperienced Bay City five the Scarlet and Grey really clicked.

St. Mary's—22; St. John's, Essexville—20

St. Mary's were out ahead in this one when a near riot ensued. The State Association ruled St. Mary's the winner.

St. Mary's—33 St. Joseph's—8

Although Jack Conway injured his ankle in the second period, St. Mary's took it in a walk.

St. Mary's—24 St. Michael's, Flint—41

The powerful Flintites proved to have too much all around strength for the Scarlet and Grey.

St. Mary's—35; St. Mich'l's, M'ple Gr.—17

With Jack Conway ringing up 20 points St. Mary's won handily.

St. Mary's—29; St. Mary's, Bay City—18

After a slow start the Scarlet and Grey clicked in the last half to hang up victory No. 7 with George Cole getting 10 points.

St. Mary's—21 SS. Peter and Paul—33

A close contest in the first half turned out to be an easy win for the midgets who by winning claimed the city title.

St. Mary's—26 St. Paul's, Owosso—24

A see-saw game that wasn't decided until the last minute when George Cole hooped one through.

St. Mary's—27 St. Paul's, Owosso—24

Another thriller with the free-throw line getting a lot of business from the Scarlet and Grey.

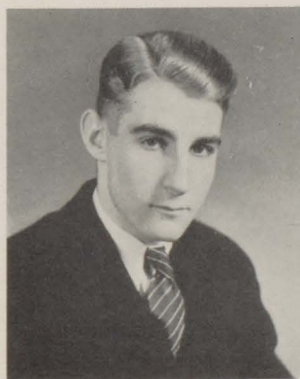

OUR BASKETBALL TEAM

Pictured on this page are the portraits of St. Mary's two coaches. Edgar Barnett is the basketball coach. He is a former student of St. Mary's and a graduate in the class of 1931. He was an outstanding athlete during his scholastic career. He has coached at St. Mary's for the last few years and has never had a losing team.

Charles C. Crosson is the football coach. During his scholastic career he was one of the best athletes in the city. He has coached but one year and although not so successful he is looking with enthusiasm to the future, as he has laid the groundwork for a winning team.

The students and faculty of the school wish to express their greatest appreciation for the work of these two men whose athletic teams are known throughout the state for their clean sportsmanship and fine courage.

The Safety Patrol

Close to ten years ago the Automobile Club of Michigan started a system of safety for school children through safety patrols. Three times a day the patrol, consisting of boys about thirteen years of age, guards the street; stopping children from crossing in front of cars and teaching them not to jay-walk and to cross at intersections.

The patrol itself is trained by young men. At St. Mary's school Charles Crossen teaches the patrol. The patrol boys are taught safety knowledge and drilling.

The last Saturday of each month during the school year the patrol goes to the Saginaw Armory to compete with other schools of the city in drilling and first aid. The patrol obtaining the highest number of points receives a banner for its work. At the end of the school year all the patrols in the city meet at Hoyt Park to compete for the City Championship. After the patrols have drilled, completed their first aid problems, have had their test in safety knowledge, and have been checked for appearance and neatness, the patrol meriting the highest number of points is declared City Champion. The patrol that wins the cup three times in a row has permanent possession of it. At this time the cup is almost filled with names and it was decided that when it is entirely filled with names, the patrol having their name the most times on the cup receives it. St. Mary's is the only school to have its name on the cup more than once.

The patrol of 1937-38,—our present patrol, is again city champion. This is the second time St. Mary's has won the city championship two years in a row having won it in 1933, 1934, 1937 and 1938.
